Have you chosen the right business model?

A simple model that works for you?

Most successful Internet Marketers (those who actually make money online) use simple business models that work for them.

If you are an IM newbie or if you have kinda tried unsuccessfully to implement a dozen bright shiny ideas, you should think about slowing down, picking one simple model, and then focusing ALL of your time and effort on using that one simple model to start making money online.

Seriously ... you need to pick a model you feel comfortable with and then take massive action until it becomes profitable.

But where can you find the best models to choose from?

There are plenty of marketers who would like to sell you on an idea about the best way to make money online.

Before you even read their sales copy, you need to find out if they themselves have been successful using the info they are selling to you.

Lots of VERY successful Internet Marketers are willing to share (sometimes for a small price) their experiences and their advice with you and me.

So, you need a simple business model and ... traffic.

Successful Internet Marketers communicate with prospects using 10 (or maybe 20) methods. Consider choosing one method (maybe email, social media, etc.) and becoming VERY good at getting your offer in front of people.

So, in order to become successful, an Internet Marketer needs to implement a simple business plan and drive traffic to the offer.
